INTRODUCTION

1.At least once in a life time you must have read kundali or birthchart ,To read a kundali we need a Jyotisha/Astrologer they can easily give insights on your future and past by reading your birth chart and can give accurate predictions on it .

2.From Ancient times the concept of Astrology was core part of indian culture it was common practice among The Greatest of Scholars

3.In this Modern Era this practice was in someway lowshaded because various myths &Propaganda against Indic Culture .And also because of nearly sheer amount of scams running on this subject.

4.To avoid such instances and benifiting the society from our ancient knowledge we bring our Project "The Predictor :Implementation of Vedic Astrology"

1.	Predictive role of case based reasoning for astrological predictions about profession: system modeling approach.	Rishi, O. P., and Neelam Chaplot	This paper describes the research in the field of astrology using case based reasoning method of artificial intelligence. Most typical aspect of astrology is the rules on which prediction is done in this science. Rules are defined by experienced persons in the field of astrology by identifying the similarity between the past cases which they have encountered.
2.	Analysis of Vedic astrology and scientific calculation through orbital period	Sharma, Harsh, Naveen Rao, and Mohit Sharma	Indian Astrology is old as Indian civilization and gets developed time to time. From so long time (B.C.) Indian civilization had unit like degree and minute (as Ansha & Kala) to measure the angular distances. But in present time people connect astrology only with the spirituality not with science. . This paper describe the calculations which astrology use to show planetary movement and those scientific calculations which prove them.

3.	Archetype of astrological prediction system about profession of any persons' using case based reasoning	O. P. Rishi and N. Chaplot	In the present scenario of the civilization, nearly one third of the population around the world Knows astrology and the rest of the two third cares enough to attend to astrological prediction at least some or other time. Beside this, a very few percent so called progressive people refuse the astrology just because of its un-standardized rules and its prediction is based on reasoning by analogy. In the present day scenario astrology needs a scientific reasoning and scientific computational model to establish the well known facts of this popular subject
4.	Astrology in the early modern period : practices and concepts	Steven Vanden Broecke (UGent)	astrology was a robust part of Europe's philosophical traditions. Firmly wedded to mathematics and natural philosophy, it was the need to secure astrology's prognostic capabilities which often drove the emergence of modern approaches to astronomy.
